

diabetes
research western australia

Claiming a Donation Tax Deduction

Where does my donation go?

When you donate to DRWA your donation will go towards research into:

- Projects that are focused on improving the lives of people living with or at risk of developing diabetes, run by Western Australia-based medical and research scientists.
- Aim of creating a world without diabetes – working towards a cure (or cures).
- Preventing development of diabetes.
- Preventing and reversing diabetes related complications.
- Minimising the impact of living with diabetes.
- Advocating for increased research and associated Government funding.
- Raising the profile of the power of research and how it changes the lives of those with diabetes and their families and carers.

How do I claim a tax deduction?

1. Make a donation

Make your donation of $2 or more through any of the methods on our website. We accept one-off or recurring donations using PayPal, Bank transfer, credit or debit card and of course any of our running campaigns on Facebook or Instagram.

<https://diabetesresearchwa.com.au/donate-now/>

2. Save the receipt or invoice

Once you have made your donation, you will receive a receipt or invoice. If you haven't received this within 14 days of making your donation, please contact our support team: admin@diabetesresearchwa.com.au. Please save this invoice or receipt. You can keep a record in the MyDeductions ATO app as well.

3. Claim your deduction

You can add your deduction on the relevant section of your tax return. Section D9 of your tax return (Gifts or Donations) deals specifically with this type of deduction. For further information about filling out your tax return, please contact your accountant, tax advisor or consult the ATO website.

www.diabetesresearchwa.com.au

This guide is for general information only and does not constitute tax advice. For personalised tax advice please contact an authorised advisor. Registered Charity No: 43743957408